

The User supplies beginning parameters in on the command line which is parsed by the ARGVParser to generate a SimSettings object.

Main creates the User Control, using the simSetting object to generate the original state of the gui parameters.

The user initializes the simulation and the simSettings object is passed to the SimulationFactory, to create the SimBuffer. The SimBuffer is passed to the Simulation, and Presentation in their constructor methods

